The only contribution received by the police for the benefit of the poor was $25 sent by Ollie Astor, who lives south of Pennsylvania avenue. She sent a letter with the money directing Lieut. Amiss to provide turkeys to fill the stomachs and make glad the hearts of some poor white persons who are unable to purchase turkeys for their Thanksgiving dinners.

This woman never fails to remember the poor and nearly every year she contributes a poor and nearly every year she contributes a poor more for their benefit.

The policeman Coghill appeared. He was unable to do other than haul them away, and the patrol wagon was called out for that purpose. When the pair of intoxicated young men reached the station one of them went quietly to the cell and stretched himself out upon the iron bench to sleep off the effects of the whisky, but the other was on a crying drunk and he objected to every move the officers made for his good, but he was locked up the same as his companion.

It is evident, says Gen. Bussey, if the soldier, after receiving an honorable discharge from the original service of ninety days, had never re-enlisted he would occupy a pensionable status; he might become a dependent pensioner under the act of June 27, 1890, by reason of his service; but the fact that he re-enlisted put him back into the service and enlisted put him back into the service and rendered him non-pensionable during his sec-ond term of enlistment. The re-enlistment is About Johnson Sides, the Messiah.

In last evening's STAR, speaking of the Indian campaign in the west, you quote from a letter Los Angeles, Cal., in which he says he believes The complainant was a much smaller man. He could not see, and had to be led into court by a small boy. He told his story of the alleged threats and what led to the trouble.

"I heard that the Fifty-ninth Lodge of Moses was to turn out," he said. "I belong to Lodge 70, but I thought I would like to go and hear the anniversary sermon. I went in between Mr. Conroy's and the other place and there I met Mr. Slaughter."

"What does Conroy keep?"

"A saloon."

"Did you go into the church or the saloon?"

"I went into the lodge room."

Johnson Sides is the Indian proclaiming himself the Messiah. This is a mistake. I know Johnson Sides well, and have known him since 1876. Although a leader among his people (the Piutes), he is a good-hearted, well-meaning Indian and always anxious to assist in quieting in an amicable way any differences arising between his followers and the whites. I append an article I have clipped from the Reno (Nev.) Gazette of the 20th instant that may prove of interest to your readers, inasmuch as the campaign is viewed with apprehension and may also throw some light on the hotel to its enlargement.
